Message

The Government of India under the leadership of PM Narendra Modi ji started the Digital India Programme in the year 2015. The objectives were clearly laid for Technology to transform people's lives, expand economic opportunities and make India - a producer of cutting edge Technologies rather than a consumer. As India enters its Techade - a decade full of technology opportunities, the Government of India through MeitY has embarked on a mission of catalysing India's Digital Economy to $1 Trillion by the year 2026. Digital Economy is expected to contribute 20% to the overall economy, adding millions of new jobs and entrepreneurial opportunities for young Indians.

NIELIT has been an integral part of MeitY's mission and has contributed to the successful implementation of several key initiatives. I am glad to see NIELIT's efforts towards augmentation of new centres/campuses in the country, launching new courses in-line with industry requirements, collaborating with various Industry Partners, and launching virtual platforms to impart quality education even to the remotest parts of the country. NIELIT holds the potential of being a Digital Skills & talent enabler for India's growing econ.

I am happy to note that NIELIT has been recognized as Awarding Body and Assessment Agency by the NCVET for the implementation of NSQF aligned courses in the Electronics and IT Sector to infuse quality assurance across the Electronics and IT skill development training value chain, leading to strengthened outcomes. I also appreciate NIELIT for developing the Remote Hardware Lab using which students can remotely test the programs developed by them and can have hands-on experience sitting in the comfort of home or anywhere else.

NIELIT is working in unison with its network of training partners in taking forward the Government's Vision of developing a technologically empowered society and I wish NIELIT the best in its future endeavors.

MESSAGE

Rapidly evolving Digital Technologies led transformational paradigms across socio-economic sectors has brought forth enormous opportunities to policymakers in fostering inclusive development. Due to services backed by a robust ICT infrastructure, the digital behavior of the country has changed for good. The sea change made by 'Digital India' programme is visible now and India's digital adaptation is growing at a rapid pace.

In this ever-evolving world of technology, MeitY continues to play a pivotal role in imparting quality education, conducting research, and promoting innovation in the IECT sector. Several Centres of Excellence have been setup by MeitY to promote innovation in emerging technologies.

NIELIT has been catching up fast in India's technological transformation journey and has been equally transforming itself to adopt the best in the area. NIELIT's contribution in various flagship programmes of MeitY such as implementation of capacity building programmes in the IECT area, Special Digital Empowerment of senior citizens, women, SC/ST/EWS and visual impaired persons etc. are praiseworthy.

Here, I would like to specially congratulate NIELIT for its Calicut Centre having been recognized as a Scientific and Industrial Research Organization by the Department of Scientific and Industrial Research (DISR), Government of India. I am also happy to note that NIELIT has developed Skilled Manpower Advanced Research and Training (SMART) facility or Virtual Prototyping Lab part of Chip to Start-up (C2S) programme for proliferation of advanced VLSI and embedded system design for training, research and electronics systems development across the country.

I hope and wish NIELIT will strive to achieve greater heights in future and will contribute towards country's digital development.

MESSAGE

The year 2022-23 has been a remarkable one for NIELIT, as we started many new initiatives focussing towards our mission of empowering the country through excellence in skill development in IECT sector. One of such initiative was organizing the first International Conference on Communication, Electronics and Digital Technologies NICE-DT'23 as a preparatory event for the G20 Presidency Year. It aims to prepare a strategy for developing Global Future-Ready Workforce in Electronics & Information Technology; which witnessed enthusiastic participation from across the globe covering researchers, academicians, industry professionals and students.

NIELIT has extended its reach to every nook and corner of the country, empowering individuals with the skills needed to excel in the digital era. In the past one year, the skilling activities of NIELIT especially in the remote region of the country has gained impetus and one NIELIT Centre was inaugurated by Hon'ble Union Minister for Electronics & IT at UT of Ladakh and five NIELIT Centres were inaugurated by Hon'ble Union Minister of State for Electronics & IT in the North-East states.

Additionally, NIELIT has made significant strides in research and development, aligning itself with the national agenda of promoting indigenous technology solutions and innovation. The in-house developed Application Specific Integrated Circuits (ASIC) and establishment of a Virtual Prototyping Lab (SMART Lab) which can cater to the hardware prototyping needs of up to 200 concurrent users (students, researchers, faculty, startups or innovators) from anywhere and at any time speak volumes of NIELIT's increasing ability on the R&D front.

The Annual Report 2022-23 highlights some of the significant achievements and contributions in the year. During the year 2022-23, NIELIT has trained about 7.95 Lakh candidates and achieved turnover of Rs.418.29 Crores.

As we move forward, NIELIT remains committed to its vision of being a leading institute capacity building and skill development in IECT sector.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

The Society Management is responsible for the preparation of these consolidated financial statements in accordance with applicable Law and bye laws for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of the consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing these consolidated financial statements, management of the Society is responsible for assessing the society's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the society or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the society's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether these consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. For the centers we have audited we also carried out following steps (here-in after referred as "additional steps"):

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the society's internal control

- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.

- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the society's ability to continue as going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the society to cease to continue as a going concern.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to be where on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

For Centers we did not audit and have been audited by other auditors whose reports have been furnished to us by the Management, accordingly we have relied on such auditors to carry out above mentioned additional steps.
