M. Tech Courses in Embedded Systems (ES) & Electronics

Design Technology (EDT)

The M.Tech courses in ‘Embedded Systems’ and ‘Electronics Design Technology’ are four semester programs. These courses focus on practical design aspects of Embedded Systems and Electronic Product Design and are intended for students who wish to work in the Industry as Design Engineers. The core and elective papers are practical oriented. This program is also an excellent one for those aspiring to take teaching as a profession.

To maximize the engineering, design and problem solving skills of the students and to become more adaptable to real life situations, project work in Industry is very helpful. This not only provides an opportunity to the students to have real life problem solving experience/ project work, but would also help them to apply their class room/ Laboratory knowledge to live situations. To achieve this objective, students are given the option to do the project work at reputed industries.

Objective of the Course

To mould fresh electronics engineers and to upgrade working engineers to High Caliber Embedded System Designers and Electronics Product Designers by enhancing their knowledge and skills in various hardware and software design aspects of Electronic Systems. These courses cover a range of topics of immediate relevance to industry and make the students suitable for working in industries engaged in Embedded System and Electronic Product development. These courses also provide an excellent foundation for those wishing to engage in application research in this rapidly developing area.

Outcome of the Course

- Participants get exposure to different families and architectures of Embedded System such as Microcontrollers, DSPs, FPGAs, RTOS etc.
- Participants will develop the expertise required to design electronic products, embedded system hardware and software using the above tools and become industry ready.
- Participants become highly proficient in Embedded Software particularly in real-time programming
